

Content

Preface 7

Martin Skamletz “Practice-Oriented Research”. Fifteen Years of Brass Projects at Hochschule der Künste Bern 9

Adrian von Steiger The Preservation of Historical Brass Instruments. Developing Guidelines for Their Preventive Conservation 32

Martin Ledergerber / Emilie Cornet / Erwin Hildbrand Humidity in Regularly Played Historical Brass Instruments. The Possibilities and Limitations of Preventive Conservation 48

Bernhard Elsener / Tiziana Lombardo / Federica Cocco / Marzia Fantauzzi / Marie Wörle / Antonella Rossi Breathing New Life into Historical Instruments. How to Monitor Corrosion 61

Federica Cocco / Marzia Fantauzzi / Bernhard Elsener / Antonella Rossi How Surface Analysis Can Contribute to an Understanding of the Preventive Conservation of Brass Instruments 73

David Mannes / Eberhard Lehmann Monitoring the Condition of Played Historical Brass Instruments by Means of Neutron Imaging 83

Martin Ledergerber Endoscopy as an Investigative Method 92

Daniel Allenbach A Glimpse into the Orchestra Pit at the Théâtre des Champs-Élysées in Paris on 29 May 1913 97

Arnold Myers Preserving Information Relating to Instruments in Museums 120

Robert Barclay Old and New. Mediating Musical Experience 128

Sabine K. Klaus To Play or Not to Play? How BIAS Can Help 136

Marie Martens Angul Hammerich and the Bronze Lurs. To Play or to Display 145

Index 160

Authors 164